

Kashi School of Yoga

FIRE PUJAS AT KASHI, 2010

Shiva Ratri
February 13, 6 pm

Hanuman Jayanti
April 3, 6 pm

Ma Jaya's Birthday
May 28, 6 pm

Neem Karoli Baba's Mahasamadhi
September 11, 6 pm

Kali Puja
Sept 30 & Oct 1,
6 pm

Laxmi Puja
October 2 & 7,
6 pm

Saraswati Puja
October 8, 6 pm

Durga Puja
October 9, 6 pm

New Year's Celebration
December 31,
10.30 pm

Fire puja, or hawan, is an ancient Hindu ceremony used for purification and cleansing. At Kashi we have fire pujas for many occasions, often in celebration of a holy person's birthday or to honor a particular god or goddess. The ceremonies are full of rich symbology, color and sound.

The fire pit, or dhuni, is beautifully decorated with colored sand for each puja. A pujari performs the puja, along with 3 or 4 assistants. During the ritual, the pujari offers a ladle of ghee, or clarified butter, and pours it on the fire, reciting one of the 108 names of the Mother. Everyone then throws in a handful of seeds as an offering, chanting Swaha, meaning "may it be so". Thus we are able to throw away that which we no longer need.

-Cost to attend a fire puja is $25
Let us know if you would like to be a special sponsor for one of the pujas for $1008
Appropriate attire requested
(sleeved shirts and long pants or skirts/dress)