LEARNING TO READ THE SIGNS

With
Dr Robert Svoboda

Saturday November 6, 2010

9:00 to 4:30

Cost: $85

Includes vegetarian lunch

Please Note:
Dr. Svoboda will be embarking upon a three-year-long sabbatical from public appearances beginning Mahasivaratri 2011 (March 3). This workshop will be one of his very last speaking engagements.

Earlier in the history of our species we had no alternative to paying close attention to our environments. Today most of us are so enveloped by other humans and human artifacts that we are only rarely able to enjoy nourishing contact with the natural world, and so are only rarely able to take advantage of the messages that Providence is always trying to provide to us.

In this one day program, Dr. Svoboda will offer his special wisdom on how to develop intuitive sight for reading and heeding the signs that Nature provides. By learning how to “read” Nature you will gain valuable insights on finding and understanding your paths through life.

Robert E. Svoboda, Ayurvedacharya, is the first Westerner ever to graduate from a college of Ayurveda and be licensed to practice Ayurveda in India. During and after his formal Ayurvedic training, Robert was tutored in Ayurveda, yoga, jyotish, tantra, and other forms of classical Indian lore by his mentor, the Aghori Vimalananda. Author of a dozen books, he is known for his brilliance, wittiness, originality and thought provoking teaching style.
